Challenges faced by job aspirants:

The position for a software engineer is open, a young graduate added few good projects to his resume and applied for the position.

The hiring manager receives a plethora of resumes - a significant number has a 'textbook' match! The manager scans through the heap & picks a few! The manager is now left with the unenviable task of figuring out 'geniune' projects. Resembles a spot who has been in?...

A job aspirant joins a training institute with hopes of walking out with hands-on experience and ready to walk into a job -- only to realize that the course helped enhance one's vocabulary of technical terms and near zero 'hands-on' training.

Another Job aspirant finds a very attractive advertisement in a portal "100% job guarantee with our training". Our poor friend is now on the middle of the road with neither job nor knowledge.

It's the time you got rid of the false promises, Our exclusive instructor led online training program delivers the right knowledge to the right people at the right time in the right approach at your convenience.

Our approach is very simple and straight forward 'It is absolutely useless to undergo a training that is based only on theoretical concepts and associated with other job promises. Theory must be accompanied by practical application of these concepts.
